Dear Mr. Martin:

It is my pleasure to recommend No Jive Productions - a leading multicultural performing and fine arts company. During the past years, JL King, LLC team and I worked with No Jive Productions on the stage play His Double Life.

No Jive Productions management, cast and crew offers top notch high quality programming, products and services. The production company is an ethical, value centered operation that not only presents outstanding work but trains actors, mass communications students as well as youth on the trends and issues in the media industry.

Ranging from community engagement to creating innovative forms of theatre through exploration of minority concerns, public affairs and new music, No Jive Productions is best in class. Please consider No Jive Productions for all your film, performing arts and television production needs.

Sincerely,
